

Universität Hamburg
DER FORSCHUNG | DER LEHRE | DER BILDUNG

Numata Center
for Buddhist Studies

Workshop: Reconsidering the Historiography of the Madhyamaka School December 1–3, 2022
at Hamburg University

With support by the Numata Center for Buddhist Studies at Hamburg University

Thursday, Dec. 1: Madhyamaka Thought in Tibet

14:00 Opening Address

14:15 Leonard van der Kuijp (keynote Speech)

A Tibetan Intellectual History of Dbu ma/Madhyamaka: The Pod drug 'bel gi gdam of Mkhan chen Ngag dbang chos grags (1572-1641)

15:45 Zhouyang Ma

The Tangut Version of the Analysis of the Essence of Madhyamaka

16:45 Theresa Bachhuber (zoom)

Some Observations on Mi-pham's Middle Way

Friday, Dec. 2: Mādhyamikas in India

10:00 Anne MacDonald (zoom)

Reorienting and Reassessing. A New Middle Way.

11:30 Masaki Tamura (zoom)

The Formation and Transmission of the Prajñāpradīpa: The Differences between the Chinese and Tibetan Translations

Lunch

15:00 Ryo Nishiyama

The Prajñāpradīpa and its ʾīkā ad MMK 24.18

16:00 Arihiro Kosaka

Candrakīrti's Teaching Methods of śūnyatā: Survey of its Historical Background

Universität Hamburg

DER FORSCHUNG | DER LEHRE | DER BILDUNG

Numata Center
for Buddhist Studies

Saturday, Dec. 3: Madhyamaka Thought in Later Indian Buddhist Texts

9:30 Hiromichi Sasaki

Śāntideva's Training Methods: On the Basis of the Chapter 4th of Bodhicaryāvatārapañjikā

10:30 Venerable Hejung (zoom)

Jñānaśrīmitra's Defense against the Candrakīrtian Critique of Self-awareness: With Reference to the Sākārasiddhiśāstra, Chapter Five

11:30 Ryan Conlon

The Middle Way through a Tantric Commentarial Lense: Preliminary Observations on the Role of Madhyamaka in the Work of Abhayākaragupta

12:10 Final Discussion

To register and receive the Zoom ID, please contact arihiro.kosaka@uni-hamburg.de